MOUNTAINS TO LAKES

Join Us in a Slice of Undiscovered Italy

With its spectacular mountains, lakes and valleys, Northern Italy has a host of microclimates that help produce an incredibly diverse food and wine culture. With each valley having its own signature products, you'll want to eat local and enjoy unique wines, cheeses, cured meats, organic vegetables, berries and olive oil, as well as trout from the lakes and rivers and game from the forests. On one side, beautiful Lake Como attracts the glitterati and the other boasts where the Mediterranean meets the Alps, so we will enjoy gastronomic delights at lakeside cafes, fabulous restaurants and at wineries nestled in the mountains. The climate, soil and terrain in this region produces a myriad of different grapes and wines, and you will discover interesting new wines to enjoy here and at home. You'll meet growers with a passion for their grapes and land, winemakers who produce the best the region offers, just as their families have for generations. There is a wonderful tradition of white and red wine, rosé and sparkling.
